About the Property

What makes Cape May, Cape May Does a 1931 home, meticulously renovated and set along a tree lined street surrounded by historic charm and Victorian architecture, match what you pictured If so, drop what you are doing. 1135 Washington Street is the opportunity you have been waiting for. This thoughtfully restored home has all the hard work done for you, blending the character newer homes often lack with modern design and convenience. From premium hand split cedar shake siding to an inviting enclosed porch with preserved original wood windows, the curb appeal is undeniable. You will immediately appreciate the private three-vehicle driveway, a coveted asset in the City of Cape May where off-street parking is frequently nonexistent. An archway leads past an enclosed outdoor shower to a priv ...
