About the Property

Excellent investment opportunity on a quiet dead-end street featuring bay views and stunning views of the Atlantic City skyline. This property is priced to sell and offers incredible upside, with homes in the area typically starting above $400,000. The home will likely require a full renovation, making it ideal for investors, builders, or buyers looking to customize their dream shore property. Major updates already completed include a newer HVAC system (2022) and a newer roof, according to the seller. A rare walk-out basement offers generous ceiling height and stays dry, providing excellent additional space and potential. Conveniently located within walking distance to Linwood Country Club, as well as the shops, restaurants, and amenities along Shore and Tilton Roads. Home being sold in st ...
