About the Property

Oceanfront ownership doesn't have to mean sacrificing space. Welcome to Unit 5 at 401 37th Street South, a thoughtfully designed oceanfront residence in one of Brigantine's most intimate and desirable beachfront buildings. With only eight units, this boutique condominium offers something increasingly difficult to find at the Jersey Shore: privacy, stability, low-maintenance living, and a true sense of community. Unlike many shore properties designed around short-term rentals and constant turnover, this is a building where owners know their neighbors, care about their homes, and enjoy the peaceful rhythm of oceanfront living. For those who want the shore to feel like home—not a revolving door—this is a rare opportunity. The building itself has been meticulously maintained, with major ex ...
